REBECCA JACKSON

VP of Reentry and Public Affairs, Community Forward SF

REBECCA JACKSON
San Francisco, CA

Rebecca Jackson is the VP of Reentry and Public Affairs at Community Forward SF. She oversees and leads the organization's advocacy efforts at the city, state, and federal levels and its Reentry program.

Her personal experiences with domestic violence, racism, addiction, and incarceration inform her work and fuel her desire to be a positive example and role model of change for others.

Rebecca extends her advocacy and activism to women's rights and issues in SF and California by being a voice and member of several coalitions and groups including: co-chair of the SF Women's Housing Coalition, Exec. Committee Board member for Hamilton Families, member of HESPA, SF Reentry Council for Women's first subcommittee, and SF Taxpayers Women's working group.

She is also the sole proprietor of her own small business–Rebecca J's Decor & Event Management that has been doing work in the Bay Area for over six years.
