

CAREY DOUGHERTY
Chief Development Officer
Catholic Charities of Santa Rosa
Santa Rosa, CA

Carey Dougherty is currently the Chief Development Officer at Catholic Charities of Santa Rosa in Northern California. With a background in interior design, she has been committed to bringing the gifts of trauma-informed, dignified and inspiring environments to nonprofits and those they serve. Projects have included a transitional living program for mothers and babies where she served for 6 years as Executive Director, an emergency shelter, a methadone clinic, and a residential program for women in recovery from substance use disorder.

She also started a nonprofit aimed at bringing the gifts of design to women and families in need and was honored to help create spaces of healing and hope for clients ranging from victims of gun violence, veterans, first-time homeowners through Habitat for Humanity, and cancer survivors.

