

Ashley Rogers, MSW is the Director of Family and Domestic Violence Shelter Services at Crossroads Rhode Island. She earned her bachelor's degree at Goshen College, and her master's degree at Indiana University.

Ashley previously served as the Domestic Violence Specialist on the Elkhart County Collaborative Task Force in Elkhart, Indiana. Ashley currently serves on the Rhode Island Governor's Domestic Violence Executive Working Group, which is tasked with improving the state's response to Domestic Violence. In addition to her work serving survivors of domestic violence and homeless families, Ashley has worked with individuals, children, and families as a mental health therapist. Ashley's passions include direct service, social justice, and public health initiatives.

ASHLEY ROGERS
Director of Family and Domestic Violence Shelter Services
Crossroads Rhode Island
Providence, RI

