

Beatrice A. Gonzalez (Bea) is the Director of the Lotus House Women's Shelter, working closely with every department to ensure that programs are running as they should and that women and children are benefitting from the resources available while consistently engaging in new collaborative relationships with community organizations and providers, bringing more resources to Lotus House and its guests. Responsible for the oversight of the financial health of the Foundation, she collaborates closely with the financial, development and outreach teams as well as program Directors.

Prior to joining Lotus House, Beatrice spent close to 10 years as a Director for a mentoring organization benefiting at-risk high school girls in South Florida. She graduated from Florida International University with a Bachelor's in Mass Communications and a minor in Marketing.
