

CAROLINE BETTINGER-LOPEZ
Senior Advisor on Gender & Equality
U.S. Department of Justice
Washington, DC

Caroline Bettinger-López is Senior Advisor on Gender and Equality at the U.S. Department of Justice, where she has helped to lead the development of the first-ever U.S. National Plan to End Gender-Based Violence.

In Fall 2021, she served as a Special Advisor to the White House Gender Policy Council. She is currently on leave from her role as Professor of Law, Faculty Chair of the Human Rights Program, and Director of the Human Rights Clinic at University of Miami School of Law, which she founded in 2011.

From 2017-2021, Professor Bettinger-López served as an Adjunct Senior Fellow at the Council on Foreign Relations, in addition to her teaching responsibilities.

From 2015-2017, she served in the Obama-Biden Administration as the White House Advisor on Violence Against Women, Senior Advisor to Vice President Joe Biden, and member of the White House Council on Women and Girls.

Professor Bettinger-López engages in advocacy before domestic and international law and policy forums to address gender-based violence, racial justice, and immigrants' rights. She has taught at University of Chicago School of Law and Columbia Law School; and was a Skadden Fellow at the ACLU Women's Rights Project and federal law clerk. She is a Commissioner on the Lancet Commission on Gender-Based Violence and Maltreatment of Young People.

She is the recipient of a Roddenberry Fellowship (COURAGE in Policing Project) and a TIME'S UP Legal Defense Fund grant (Voces Unidas Project, to support low-wage immigrant women workers).
