

MAYOR FRANCIS SUAREZ

City of Miami
Miami, FL

Francis Suarez believes in an America that lasts forever and works for everyone. Serving as the 43rd Mayor of Miami, he has worked to build a Miami that serves as a beacon of freedom, opportunity, and responsibility across America. Now, he wants to do the same for all Americans!

The son of Cuban American immigrants, Mayor Suarez believes America must remain the greatest country in the world by ensuring every American can enjoy the rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness by preserving a strong America for our generation and for future generations.

First elected with a mandate of 86 percent and then re-elected with a mandate of nearly 79 percent, Mayor Suarez has championed a high-tech economy, the integration of climate adaptive practices, access to Web 3.0 technology jobs, parent-driven educational choice, and a free-market approach toward solving problems. He has cut crime, cut taxes, and cut homelessness to one of their lowest points in over fifty years, spurring a broad-based economic expansion across Miami that continues today. And what he has done for the people of Miami, he can do for every hard working American.

Mayor Suarez believes that expanding people's freedom means expanding people's prosperity. He has championed new, American-made tech companies with initiatives that connect education and job training for all hard working Americans in the new and growing American digital economy.

He believes that educational choice drives economic opportunity and that our environment is our economy—for every family, every business, and every neighborhood. As Mayor, he started Child Savings Accounts and the Miami Charter School network to build more charter schools, delivering real choice for frustrated parents and educational freedom for students stuck in failing schools.

As one of the longest serving presidents of the US Conference of Mayors, Mayor Suarez led this bipartisan organization to promote successful policies based on cutting taxes, cutting crime, and cutting homelessness. As president, he confronted the soft bigotry of low expectations. He believes that our nation's leaders have failed to do what the mayor does every day: listen, lead, and make decisions that help America and Americans, from all backgrounds, reach the American Dream.

Mayor Suarez is grateful for the public and faith-based education he received and its role in helping him live out the American Dream. He earned his bachelor's degree in finance from Florida International University, graduating in the top ten percent of his class, and then received his law degree from the University of Florida Levin College of Law, where he graduated cum laude.

Mayor Suarez was named a Time Future 100 Leader and also named one of Forbes Top 20 Great Leaders for his work. Separately in the private sector, he serves as an attorney for Quinn Emmanuel LLP. Mayor Suarez is married to Gloria Fonts Suarez. They have a son, Andrew Xavier, and a daughter, Gloriana Pilar. As the children of new Americans, they feel blessed to serve the people of Miami, contribute to their church, and raise their family in the greatest country in the world.
